Name of the student / Student number:

Course of studies:

Hereby I agree with an alternative way of examination. Following ways of examination are agreed on:

- Instead of written exams, there can be electronic exams (online), there can be written tasks which can be fulfilled from home (e.g., elaborations, protocols). As an alternative, also oral examination via a way of remote communication or a combination of oral and written exam is valid as well.
- Instead of oral exams or colloquiums, there can be written tasks which can be fulfilled from home. As an alternative, the oral exam can be done via remote communication or a combination of oral exam and written task.
- For exams that are usually conceived in a combination of oral and written examination, the oral part can take place via remote communication or this part can be dispensed and replaced through an additional written task.

For the exam relevant are the appropriate examination regulations. Changes of these regulations, like a different completion period or a different extent were announced by the examiners.

Exams, that were taken in WS 21/22 and according to the examination regulations marked as "definitely failed" are considered not to have been undertaken and can be repeated once. This does not apply to attempts at deception. Withdrawal can be made up to the 5th day before the start of the examination without providing evidence per e-mail to the examination office. If the resignation is declared later, the regulations of the respective examination regulations apply.
